Dear Hal,

Or should I say "Stranger"?

The enclosed is self-explanatory.

Yesterday, intending to offer backgrounding on what relates to the current Blap on the attempted bugging of the Democrats, I tried to phone Harve at KGO-TV. The guy who answered on the newsroom line seemed never to have heard of him. Switchboard closed weekends.

I phoned his home number, as I have it, didn't understand the answer of the answering service, but the operator on my end used the name correctly.

I'd have expected a call from work today. It is now 2 p.m. there and silence.

Hope they are all ok. If he isn't there, let me know what the score is when you can. If he is, give them all my best and explain the purpose of the call, please, and tell him that Wash Post has used some and other papers seem to intend to.

Hope things going well with you, work and personally, and that the sideline flourishes.

Best regards,
